OHMYGOODNESS

This month we built a record SEVEN houses and TWO toilets with two teams from Salesforce, three international schools from China and Korea and some awesome individual and long-term volunteers. Such a great effort!!!!

That's 15 houses already this year!!

Say what now??

that's right
YOU HEARD IT HERE FIRST

VBC, in the not-too-distant future, will build and open a community centre in the village we've recently been building a lot in and where we've also set up our warehouse. We met with a great crowd of volunteers, social entrepreneurs, studying architects, NGO owners and NGO workers this past month to nut out some ideas. Our community centre will offer English lessons to both children and adults in the village/surrounding villages. We also hope to offer different workshops and training courses to expand their employment opportunities and get them earning an income from something other than rice/potato farming and general labour work within the village.

If you have any ideas / would like to be a part of this / know anyone that might want to support this project, please contact us at;

We are hoping to start building in June with the first of our donations received from past / return / will-return-again-soon volunteers, Brendon and Deanna!

♡ ♡ thank you guys!!

TESTIMONIALS

Volunteering with VBC was a fantastic experience. Being able to meet the families that you are building for and see exactly where your money is going was very satisfying. The balance between doing the work and having time out to do other things was spot on. The staff of VBC were very friendly and approachable and did a great job of making sure I was happy with everything. I will definitely be back out there again!

Claire, towards the end of her placement, looking very comfortable with a saw (just keep her away from the nail gun)
